THE ESSENTIAL
PUBLICATION FOR EVERYONE
INTERESTED IN RADICAL IDEAS
CULTURE AND NEW WRITING

In the wake of the end of the Cold War and worldwide protests against corporate globalisation, anarchism continues to attract new adherents among both aging leftists and new generations of young radicals. Arena aims to tap into this revived interest in libertarian ideas, culture and practice by providing a dynamic focal point, a journal that brings together good, stimulating and provocative writing and scholarship on libertarian culture of all kinds: ideas engaging with all aspects of the arts, life and 'politics' — and in the process provoking discussion, polemic and debate.

Designed for a general, intelligent, popular readership as well as for scholars and aficionados working in the area, the first issue of Arena focuses on film and video — historical and modern — but future issues will cover the entire spectrum of the arts: film, theatre, art, criticism, ideas, political theory and practice, reportage, fiction and non-fiction. We also welcome suggestions and contributions, letters, unsolicited articles, illustrations and reviews for consideration from our readers, and our subscribers and supporters.
